

FRIDAY, JUNE 22, 1744.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from Holland.

Stockholm, June 12.

General Keith, who commands in Chief here, has given Orders to the Russian Forces in this Kingdom, to hold themselves in Readiness to march the latter End of this Month, or the beginning of next. Our Prime Minister, Count Gyllenbourg, is very often indispos'd; which some People are pleas'd to impute, is only an Artifice to cover his secret Conferences with the French Minister. It is certain, that his Excellency has the Quadruple Alliance much at Heart, and it will not be his Fault, if we do not see the whole North in a Flame before the Close of the Summer.

Monte Rotondo, June 6. The Army of Prince Lobkowitz is advanced within two Miles of Veletri, where the Spanish and Neapolitan Forces are encamp'd; so that for these six Days last past, the two Armies have been in sight of, and employ'd in cannonading each other. They are so situated, that neither Army can stir without exposing itself to great Risques. The Count de Gages, not long ago, wrote to a Person of Distinction in this City, that he was in no Pain for any Thing Prince Lobkowitz could do, since he was very certain that he could not attack him, without running an extreme Hazard of being totally ruin'd. There seems to be the more Reason to credit this, because, in all this Time, the Austrian have not shewn any Disposition to attack them. They have, indeed, twice attack'd the Spanish Post at the Capuchins, but with very indifferent Success, having been repuls'd both Times with considerable Loss. They have also cut the Pipes from the Fountain of Spina, in order to hinder the Army of the Count de Gages from getting any fresh Water, but with no Effect; since they have another Fountain nearer them, to which they have very easy Access, and can be by it sufficiently supplied. Prince Lobkowitz has frighten'd the People of Rome excessively; he procured, a few Days ago, an Order from the Pope, requiring all Deserters from his Army to quit the City; and having, before-hand, posted Detachments all round it, they took the poor Creatures as they came out, and caus'd them to be hung up. The Executioner of Rome was the Operator upon this Occasion, the Austria Provost being sick. It is thought our Hangman has done more Business in two Hours, than he would have had Occasion to do during his whole Life.

Paris, June 10. Tho' our Court seems to have great Reason to complain of the Conduct of that of Vienna, which has absolutely refus'd all Sorts of Succours, tho' unanimously bound by Treaties to afford them; yet the King thinks himself nevertheless bound to exert the utmost of his Force in Support of the common Cause; and has actually posted so many Troops, and so advantageously, for the Defence of the Passes on the Side of Dauphny, and the Col de Tende, that it is believ'd the Enemy, tho' in their boasting, will not be much inclin'd to attempt either of them this Campaign.

Nice, June 8. On the 2d of this Month the Marquis de Minas march'd from hence at the Head of a numerous Detachment, in order to attack the Piedmontese in their Entrenchments at Onigli; but the Troops, posted there, though strengthened by ten Battalions, and 1000 Dragoons from Ormes, thought fit to retire on the Approach of the Spaniards; and tho' the English Men of War made a terrible Fire upon them as they pass'd along the Beach, yet only one Miquelet was kill'd.

Vienna, June 13. The King of Prussia, under Pretence of marching a Corps of Troops into the Principality of Ratisland, of which he has lately taken Possession, has demand'd a Passage for that Corps thro' the Kingdom of Bohemia, which our Court has thought proper to refuse, but in the softest and civillest Terms possible. It is however very much doubt'd, whether his Majesty will be satisfied with this Refusal; and our Court seems to be so apprehensive of it, that they have sent Orders to Bohemia, to stop the last Corps of Regular Troops that had Orders to march from that Country thro' Bohemia. The Prince de Avelline, who has resided here many Years, and has a Pension from the Court, tho' of a sudden, taken a Resolution to return to his own Country, which, considering the present Conjunction, appears to us very extraordinary. Our Court has lately published a complete Rejection of the Declaration of War by his most Christian Majesty against the Queen, our Sovereign; to which several original Papers, of great Consequence, will be added, by Way of Appendix. We have this Moment Advice from Presbourg, that the States of Hungary are resolv'd to keep 40,000 Men more than they have at present on Foot, in constant Readiness, to be employ'd wherever it may be necessary. Orders have been lately given here, for repairing all the Small Arms that have been taken from the Enemy in the two last Campaigns, in order to deliver them to the Militia which are to be employ'd in Bohemia, Austria, and the rest of the Hereditary Countries. This Moment a Courier is set out for the Army of Prince Charles, with Orders, that his Highness should detach immediately 25,000 Men for the Low Countries, in Compliance with the repeated Demands of the Courts of London and the Hague.

Mentz, June 10. The Hangers and Pandours, Imperial and Austrian, are eternally skirmishing in our Neighbourhood. The other Day there pass'd something extraordinary within three Miles of this Place. A Body of Croats and Pandours hid themselves behind some old Retrenchments, and an inconsiderable Party of Hangers went to insult the Imperial Camp, from whence they were presently followed by a considerable Body of Dragoons, upon the Spur, from whom the Hangers fled precipitately; in order, as it seem'd, to take Shelter behind the Entrenchments. The Imperial Dragoons still continued to pursue them, when, on a sudden, the Pandours and Croats rush'd out, and attack'd them so furiously, that Two-thirds were left dead on the Place. Prince Charles of Lorraine waits only the last Orders from the Court of Vienna, to attack the Imperialists in their Camp; and after that, the French in their Retrenchments.

Extrait of a Letter from the French Camp before Ypres, June 19, 1744.

The King arriv'd here on the 17th, and took up his Quarters in the Castle of the Marquis de Cœff. On the 18th the Trenches were open'd very near the Place, and the same Day we began to play upon it from a Battery of 16 Pieces of Cannon, and 20 Mortars. At present we have three other Batteries, two of six, and the third of eleven Guns, that thunder on the Place; and we make no doubt, that next Week the Breach will be practicable, and we shall endeavour to carry the Place by Storm. Hitherto we have not had above 20 Men kill'd.

HOME PORTS.

Deal, June 20. Wind S. W. by S. In the Downs, the Betty Tenders, the Cartier, Friend, for Virginia; the Hercules, Taylor, for St. Kitts; and the Rupert, Parker, for Philadelphia.

Gravesend, June 20. Pass'd by the Lady Regina, Eshelton, from Stockholm.

Arrived

At Rotterdam, the Cartwright, Stevenson, from London.

At Virginia, the Good Intention, Cordiner, from Amsterdam.

At Limerick, the Concord, Williamson, from Drouion.

LONDON.

According to the last Advices from Italy that can be depended upon, the Austrian Army under Prince Lobkowitz consists of 35,000 Men; and that of his Neapolitan Majesty of 33,000.

Her Hungarian Majesty acquiesc'd Count Dohna, in his last Audience, that she was about to conclude an Alliance with the Court of Russia, to which she intend'd to invite his Prussian Majesty to accede; and desired him to write to his Court to that Purpose.

It is thought that the King of Poland will go shortly from Warsaw to Ikiow, in order to confer there with her Imperial Majesty of Russia.

The Count de Gages being violently oppos'd by all the Neapolitans in his Resolution of remaining in the Camp at Veletri, and being ask'd by the Count de Castille, what Reinforcements he expect'd to receive, those which were daily arriving in the Austrian Army, he answer'd coolly, The Month of August.

Private Letters from Hamburg say, that there is a very strong Fleet fitting out at Petersburgh; the Design of which is kept a very great Secret.

We learn from Vienna, that her Hungarian Majesty is about three Months gone with Child.

Several Letters from the Hague say, that Count Walsenier is again set out for Looz, in order to carry the French King the definitive Resolution of their High Mightinesses.

Two Dutch Ships bound for Amsterdam, from Norway, are taken by a French Privateer, and carried into Dunkirk.

The Medea, a French Man of War, was purchased for 5000l. by the Gentlemen of Dartmouth, at the Dartmouth, which Ship is ordered from Portsmouth, for Dartmouth, to be Manned and Fitted; and, we hear, it will be able to sail on a Cruise in a Fortnight.

On Wednesday Evening, the Right Hon. The Lord Chancellor came to his House in Ormond Street, from the Seat of his Son in Law, in Bedfordshire.

Yesterday Commenc'd A. D. O. the Hon. Capt. Townshend, and Capt. Mesley, kiss'd his Majesty's Hand on their being appointed Admirals; and were afterwards sworn in before the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty.

Last Night the Right Hon. the Earl Fitzwilliams was married to the Lady Anne Wentworth, eldest Daughter to the Right Hon. the Earl of Malton; a Lady with a large Fortune.

The following is the Copy of a Letter from Capt. Haddon, Commander of the Imperial Army, to his Officers, who is arriv'd at Stangate Creek, in Company with the Drifley, Campion, and the Bassus, Taverner, from Loughora.

June 8, 1744. in Lat. 47° 30' N. about 70 Leagues S. W. from the Lizard, at One o'Clock in the Afternoon, we saw a Ship on our Starboard Side, standing Right for us; Capt. Taverner then a Pistol Shot a Head of us, Capt. Campion a Head of us about five or seven Miles. As the Ship drew nigh us, he hoisted Dutch Colours; we then took all our small Sails in, and made a clear Ship; as did also Capt. Taverner. At half an Hour after Two he stood into us within Gun-shot, and bore right after us. We then hoisted our Colours, and fired our Chace Guns, as did Capt. Taverner also. He hauled down his Dutch Colours, and hoisted Spanish ones, and fired his Gun upon us as fast as he could. As he came up upon our Larboard Quarter, we fired so briskly upon him for some Time, that he was oblig'd to sheer off from us, and go to Capt. Taverner, intending to clap him aboard; who gave him so warm a Reception, as oblig'd him to sheer off a-chwart his Hauls, and carried away his flying Gib Boom. The Privateer for what Sail he could; but his Rigging and Sails was so much cut, that he was a long Time before he could get his Topsails hoisted. Our Rigging and Sails being also much cut, prevent'd our making much Sail after him. As soon as he got his Sails set, he stood away from us as fast as he could. The Engagement lasted seven Glasses, very hot; but Thanks be to God, only one Man wounded in each Ship; but our Rigging and Sails much cut. The Weather being thick and foggy, Capt. Campion could not see us, nor come to our Assistance, but only by run for us all the Time. The Privateer had 16 Cartridges, besides a great many Small Guns; and, as near as we could judge, about 200 Men.
